School Bond Vote Turnout May Be Light—As Usual

Another school election is scheduled for Tuesday. This one is a high school district bond issue. It requires approval by two-thirds of the voters.

Tuesday's election results may come as a surprise to most voters if the September 21 junior college district override election is used as a criteria when only 19,000 persons cast ballots. There are about 100,000 registered voters in the district.

There is little interest locally on school issues unless something controversial is up for consideration. Bonds are expensive but dreary. As a result most voters will ignore the issue and later complain that they didn't know about it. A small turnout can permit small, non-representative cliques to dominate the vote.

Tuesday's election is a high school district bond issue for which property owners in the Grossmont Union High School District are being asked to commit themselves to a $19½ million indebtedness plus interest thereon of about five percent.

Proceeds will be used to buy two new high school building sites; to construct two new high schools on sites already acquired; to enlarge and update certain present schools, and to renovate facilities that are now deteriorating.

If the issue is approved by two-thirds of the total votes cast, the owner of a $25,000 home (assessed at $6,250) will pay about $7.75 a year for bond retirement plus a slight additional charge for interest.

Locally, a pretty good wad of the bond money is scheduled for the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley areas—for a change.

Mt. Miguel High school will receive $802,000 for one new building with sound or air conditioning for certain others. Mt. Miguel is on double sessions.

Monte Vista will get $771,000 for two new buildings with remodeling to certain others. Monte Vista is not on double sessions but does have an "extended utilization" program.

The district's ninth high school, Valhalla, will be built east of Casa de Oro in the new Rancho San Diego area. It is scheduled to get $2½ millions. About $5.5 millions have already been transferred to this project from funds earmarked for site acquisition for the tenth high school.

The tenth high school, yet to be named but with its site already nailed down, will be built on the south side of Campo rd. at a point about halfway between Mt. Miguel and Monte Vista.

Other schools in the Grossmont District will get varying amounts for expansion, improvement, and updating. One million dollars will be set aside for developing the eleventh site and for purchasing the twelfth. The eleventh school will be built west of the Santana/Santee High School areas.

Local voters should know that about $10 millions of the $19½ millions—more than half—will accrue to this general area.

All the bond issue money will be used for sites, construction or equipment. None will be used for operation or salaries—that's what the junior college district over-ride was about.

School leaders deny that a 12-month program would alleviate double sessions. Double sessions are already practiced at many schools. These are scheduled in line with State law setting classroom population.

An argument against approval of the issue was filed by one Roger F. Winchester, an avid letter-to-the-editor writer.

He cites in opposing the election that the money will be used to supply school facilities to people who do not now reside in the district—and that this will attract additional people to move into the area.

He also cites the destructive aspects to environment that huge developments create. Developers, he says, provide housing for multitudes of people, reap the financial harvests, and depart. The two high schools planned for the Casa de Oro area and the Valhalla school, play right into the hands of such enterprises, he said.

Few people have the opportunity to act effectively on these issues. Tuesday's election provides one such opportunity, he added.

On a more conservative premise, it must be admitted that schools are vital. Whether the student-per-room formula is proper or whether the need would be here on a year-around school schedule, is moot.

This study boils down to a couple of considerations. One: do you believe your school authorities and your elected trustees when they tell you the money for these projects is vitally needed?

Two: are you willing to pay $7.75 a year (average home) for what you are told is vitally needed?

If you can answer yes to either one or both of these questions your place Tuesday is at the polls.

Most polling places are at the school in your neighborhood.

Planning Group To Act On Broadway Facelift

Another night meeting is scheduled this week for the executive committee of the Lemon Grove Planning Association. It will be at 7:30 to 9:00 p.m. at the Golden Avenue elementary school auditorium on School lane.

Jim Dorman, Association president, said the executive committee would consider a recommendation to pursue a 1911 Act procedure on the improvement of Broadway.

A petition circulated by the L.G. Chamber of Commerce by which the improvement would include a service district for caring for the parking areas and landscaping the center islands failed to produce enough signatures. 66.7

Kiwanis Club 'Apple Days' Next Week

Kiwanis "Apple Days" will converge upon Lemon Grove for the 17th year next week, according to John Johnson, Lemon Grove Kiwanis Club "Apple Days" chairman.

The local club brings a box car load of 100,000 apples, of the "Washington Extra Fancy Delicious" variety each year, Johnson said.

The apples are then sold and the proceeds are used to finance many functions, including helping to buy uniforms for local school marching bands, maintenance of the Lemon Grove Plaza, contributions to the Lemon Grove Youth Center, and support of Little League and Pop Warner teams.

"Apple Days" will run from next Wednesday afternoon through Saturday, beginning when the railroad car arrives at the rail siding near North ave. and Imperial ave.

Buyers may purchase apples at the refrigerated car, or may place orders through Kiwanis Club members at any of the following phone numbers: 469-5201, 466-6504, 463-3212, 463-8429, or 466-0564. Prices for the apples are $10 per box, $5 per half-box, and $2.50 per quarter-box.

Sups May Return To Monday Meets

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — The County Board of Supervisors may return to holding their regular meetings on Monday.

On Tuesday, they asked Chief Administrative Officer Fred J. Morey to look into the situation with a view toward shifting the regular date from Tuesday.

Recently, the San Diego Chamber of Commerce complained about the fact that both the supervisors and the San Diego City Council meet on Tuesday.

How To Get Appointed Without Really Trying

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — Being the county supervisor representing San Diego on the County Supervisors Association of California is not one of the most exciting jobs in existence.

On Tuesday four of the board members decided they did not have enough time to take on this additional duty.

They then, in a unanimous vote, selected Supervisor Harry Scheidle for the job.

Scheidle, you see, was on vacation. D.S.

Three of the board members, William A. Craven, Henry A. Boney, and Jim Bear, expressed their preference for a Monday meeting with Tuesday sessions reserved for set hearings.

Boney said Monday meetings might deprive some members from having long weekends, but said he believes the step should be taken anyway.

Craven said he was in favor of Monday meetings all along and did not need the chamber letter to help him make up his mind.

Supervisor Harry Scheidle, who got the date changed from Monday to Tuesday said he still prefers Tuesday.

L.G. Fire Lasts For Two Hours

A fire that threatened several houses in Lemon Grove was extinguished by Lemon Grove and San Diego Firemen Monday at the 6400 block of Federal blvd.

According to reports from the local fire station, the blaze broke out shortly before 3 p.m. and four units were sent to the scene. Six units from the San Diego Fire Department also responded to the fire, which burned for nearly two hours.

The inferno charred about 5 acres of grass and brush and scorched some trees in the area, but caused no extensive damage.

Overdose Kills Wife of Local Businessman

The wife of a Lemon Grove businessman was pronounced dead at Chula Vista Community Hospital last Friday of an apparent overdose of sleeping pills.

Debra Marie Cascio, 39, of 5604 Pray st., Bonita, was found in a Chula Vista motel by a maid who was unable to awaken her. Mrs. Cascio was the wife of Nicholas M. Cascio, owner of Mission Valley Tree in Lemon Grove.

She was transported to Chula Vista Community Hospital, where a stomach pump failed to revive her. Mrs. Cascio registered at the motel Thursday afternoon and was in good spirits at the time, a spokesman for the motel said. She registered under a false name.

Requiem Mass was held Tuesday morning at St. Rose of Lima Catholic Church in Chula Vista.

In addition to her husband, survivors include a daughter, Christina Marie Cascio and a son, Nicholas M. Cascio, Jr., both of the Bonita address, and her mother, Mrs. Agnes Pokorski.

John Hemmer Cites Record On Fire Board

Second in a Series of Three

John Hemmer, 30, has served as a director on the board of the Lemon Grove Fire District for three years. He is seeking re-election. Also in the race are Bonnie Shumate, veteran director, and Joe Ouellette, running for the first time.

Hemmer, a stock broker with Dupont, Gore, Forgan, is seeking return to the board to continue "the fine job" the board has done.

John Hemmer

"We've reduced the tax rate 2 cents to 79 cents," he said. "We have one of the best districts in California. We have earned a class 4 rating which is the basis for reducing taxes and equally important, reduces fire insurance costs," he said.

Another accomplishment claimed by Hemmer and the present board is the acquisition of the $60,000 Squirt fire pumper. "We paid cash for it," he said. "Efficient operation of the district made the purchase possible without going into debt."

He and the present board have just gone through a critical period and it was done without bringing the district to a crisis, Hemmer said. The retirement of Chief Hensley and Captain Harry Alexander and the loss of Captain Leon Anderson were critical events, he added.

"We managed to give salary increases two years in a row," he said.

Hemmer and his family have lived in the area 12 years; 5 of which were in Lemon Grove. He, his wife and their two children attend St. John of the Cross church.

He pointed out that he had not missed a meeting of the board since his appointment.

His profession, he noted has a background in finance and that experience has been useful to the district.

As an added duty, he serves as the fire district's representative on its Special Districts Assn.'s executive committee.

Directors meet twice a month and get $20 a meeting.

S.V. Flood Control Plans To Be Aired At Meeting

FRONTIER DAZE — Ardis Thomas, co-chairman of "Frontier Daze" crochets a potholder that will be sold at one of the booths of the bazaar. "Frontier Daze" is the annual fall event for members of Trinity Presbyterian Church in Spring Valley. This year's bazaar will be October 23 and 24.

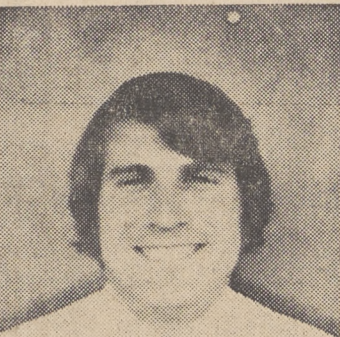

School Board OK's Agreement With Development Company

The Lemon Grove School District Board of Trustees met Monday night and heard reports on the Imperial 80 planned residential development, discussed the four-district unification plan, and accepted reports on the free and reduced price lunches.

A major portion of the evening was spent with the Planning residential development.

Simons Named Social Director

Donald E. Simons, of 3218 Central ave., Spring Valley, last week was named Director of Social Services at the Home of Guiding Hands, a residential and school facility for the mentally retarded in Lakeside.

Simons

Simons, a native of San Diego, is a graduate of Helix High School and Grossmont College. He received his Liberal Arts degree in Social Welfare from San Diego State College last year.

He has served at the Home of Guiding Hands for the past year as a social worker. In his new position, Simons will be in charge of admissions for new residents, perform parent counseling services, function as a liaison between the Home and other agencies, and act as a staff consultant.

Simons has a wife, Leslie, and a daughter, Julie.

with the board listening to presentations made by representatives of the Pacific Bay Development Company, which is developing the land.

Paul Reynolds first gave background on the development. The San Diego City Council held a hearing September 30 on the proposed plan, noting that developers had reduced the proposed number of units to 574 from the original 750. About 450 of the units would fall into the Lemon Grove School District, although the development would lie solely in the City of San Diego.

Final approval would have apparently been given, said Reynolds, except for a letter from the district pointing out that an agreement between the district and the developers made prior to the reduction in units might not be valid.

The presentation by the developer's representatives sought another agreement, which was expected to be required for a hearing on final approval scheduled for this morning.

An agreement was presented to the board, and after much discussion of the interpretation of the language contained in it, was rejected by the board.

The board then asked Trustee Jim Dorman to re-word portions of the agreement and approved it as amended by Dorman.

Much of the controversy in the document centered around an option clause, giving the district the right to purchase a ten-acre site for a school. As it read in the original agreement, the three-year option began with the execution of the agreement.

Dorman, however, said that the clause should be effective after final approval of subdivision maps, which could be a year or more from the time of execution of the agreement.

By setting the date farther in the future for the option to begin, it is expected that the option could save the district money.

For example, if the clause were to begin today, and the developers did not get approval of the maps for one year and construction did not start for two years, the first occupancy of the development may not be for as long as three years, when the option would run out.

The purpose for the option is to enable the district to decide — based on the number of students generated from occupancy — whether or not to purchase the site. Without the option, the district must pay fair market value for the site at a time when, most likely, the value of the property increases, which could be several thousands of dollars more than at the time when an option is executed.

Regarding unification, the board discussed the four-district plan approved earlier by the county board of education, noting that the plan could be changed at a hearing Nov. 3. Trustees generally agreed that the four-district plan, if eventually approved by voters, would be better than the one

Bud James Wins Top Agency Post

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — County supervisors Tuesday confirmed the appointment of R. B. "Bud" James, county clerk since 1954, as Law and Justice Coordinator.

James will resign his elective position to take up new duties as the head of one of the county's eight agencies.

His position is that of coordinator rather than administrator because the agency includes independent elective officers, the sheriff, the judges, and county clerk.

James, appointed after competitive interviews, will report to Chief Administrative Officer Fred Morey. Chief Deputy Clerk Jesse Osuna replaces James. Heads of seven other agencies will be named in keeping with a governmental efficiency recommendation.

$6.5 Million Project To Be Discussed

A plan to control flooding in Spring Valley will be presented to the public in the cafeteria of Mount Miguel High School at 7:30 p.m., tonight.

The plan recommends construction of a system of flood control channels along the Casa de Oro, Main, and Brookside branches of the Spring Valley Creek. The area involved is from the foothills near Mount Helix to a point below Jamacha road.

"Construction of flood control facilities is urgently needed because of the growing flood hazard and mushrooming economic development of the Spring Valley area," said Case Housen, County Department of Sanitation and Flood Control Director.

Housen estimates the total project will cost approximately $6.5 million.

"We want the public to participate in the planning process and to discuss means of financing the project," he said.

Copies of the proposed plan are available at the Spring Valley Chamber of Commerce Office, 9050 Memory ln.; the Spring Valley Branch of the San Diego County Library, 1003 Elkton blvd.; the Casa de Oro Branch of the County Library at 9628 Campo rd.; and the Sanitation and Flood Control headquarters at 5555 Overland ave., San Diego.

Thermometer Reaches 102 Degrees Again

The weatherman played no favorites this week. Lemon Grove and Spring Valley registered a warm 102 degrees — the second time in back-to-back weeks that it got that hot. 102 was also reported in the La Mesa area.

Last week the hot day came Wednesday. This week it was Sunday. On Monday a "mild" 95 was listed. Weathermen did not predict the end of the uncomfortable temperatures which came in on the breast of a Santa Ana air flow.

Lions Cane Day Produces $1,000

Lemon Grove Lions Club White Cane Days brought the local club a little more than $1,000, it was announced this week.

Bob Russell, past president said that $1,400 is needed to provide the services the club was committed to this year. A major portion is earmarked for vision screening at the kindergarten and first grade levels at all Lemon Grove schools.

"Money is still being received by mail from letters we sent out a couple of weeks ago," Russell said.

"If we fall short of our goal, we'll have a fruit cake sale or another kind of project to meet our commitments," he said.

Dance Set Oct. 23

The Italian Catholic Federation of Lemon Grove will sponsor a dance at Saint John of the Cross Church starting at 9 p.m. October 23.

Music for the affair will be provided by Felix Buhdi, and ham sandwiches and other snacks will be available. Tickets for the dance may be purchased at the church rectory or may be obtained by phoning Mary Giacinto at 466-1096. Proceeds will go to charity.

Trinity Sets Fall Event' Oct. 22, 23

The Women's Association of the Trinity Presbyterian Church, with three co-hostesses, Mrs. Jack Wheeler, Mrs. George Thomas and Mrs. James Larson, are gathering together all arrangements for the annual Trinity "Big Fall Event," scheduled for Friday and Saturday, Oct. 22 and 23 at the church.

There will be a Chuckwagon Style dinner on Friday, from 5:30 to 7 p.m. at $1.25 for adults and children over 12; and 75 cents for children under 12. These will be donations. On Saturday there will be a luncheon from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Plans include movies for youngsters, a sale of sweets and baked goods, hand-crafts, a "white elephant" and do-it-yourself crafts.

Tickets will be on sale this week and help is needed for the event, as well as items for the sales.

Church School for all ages will be at 9 a.m., Sunday. Coffee fellowship at 10 a.m.; Worship and Church School at 10:30 a.m.; Senior High class at 7:30 p.m.; Pastor Dick Adams will again have his adult class at 9 a.m.

Nursery Preschool Set At Heartland YMCA

The Heartland YMCA will offer a cooperative nursery preschool for children three to five years of age each Wednesday and Friday from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

The program is a California State Licensed preschool with a certified teacher. Activities include free play, art projects, story times and field trips.

The cost for each one month period is $10 and each mother is required to assist the teacher in four sessions each ten weeks.

AREA OBITUARIES

G. I. Williamson

Graveside services were held in New York last week for Grace I. Williamson, 87, of 2201 Central ave., Spring Valley, who died October 2 at her home.

Conrad Lemon Grove Mortuary was in charge of local arrangements. Mrs. Williamson was a native of New York, although she lived in this area for 12 years.

She is survived by a son, Stanley Williamson, of New York, and two daughters, June Harvey of Spring Valley, and Thais MacMillan, of Lemon Grove.

A. L. Lessard

Services were held last Monday afternoon in the Little Chapel of the Roses at Glen Abbey Memorial Park for Albert Lawrence Lessard, 5, of 1064 Woodhaven dr., Spring Valley, who died September 30, at his home.

A native of Michigan, Lessard lived here for 10 years and was employed as an electrician with the North Island Naval Air Station during that time.

Services were followed by entombment in Glen Abbey

Lessard is survived by his widow, Janet; two sons, Lawrence, of Spring Valley, and Richard, of San Diego; his mother, Patty Lessard, of Michigan; a brother, Edward Lessard, of Westminster, California; four sisters, Geraldine Marsh and Marjorie Howard, both of Wisconsin, Myrtle Smith, of Michigan, and Eleanor Sandberg, of Pennsylvania; and eight grandchildren.

W. R. Bond

Memorial services were held at Greenwood Mortuary Monday for Wesley Russell Bond, of 10250 Prospect ave., Santee, a longtime resident of Lemon Grove who died October 6 at Grossmont Hospital.

Bond was born in New York 82 years ago, but came to Lemon Grove at the age of three. He worked as a bus driver for many years with the Cajon Union School District in El Cajon.

Entombment was in Greenwood Mausoleum. Survivors include his widow, Elizabeth; two daughters, including Mrs. Vivian Burchett of Spring Valley; six grandchildren, and five great-grandchildren.

Alabama's coach, Bear Bryant, has a record of 199 wins, 66 losses and 16 tied games.

If we were to select the simplest of forms to say "go" in Spanish we would probably say "va." Its simplicity and versatility call for its frequent use. "Va" is pronounced "vahl." It may appear with "el" (he), "ella" (she) or "usted" (you). This permits us to say phrases like "El va" (He goes), "Usted va" (You go), and "Ella va" (She goes).

"Cuando va usted?" means "When are you going?" We use "voy" (I go) to construct an answer. We may expand this to tell our friends "Voy en enero" (I am going in January) or we may simply say "No voy" (I am not going).

"Como va el?" is translated "How is he going?" We might respond, "No se" (I don't know). We may also wish to respond "El va en su coche" (He is going in his car) or "El va solo" (He is going alone).

"Adonde va usted?" means "Where are you going?" The places that most of us go to are "la oficina" (the office), "la casa" (home), "el centro" (downtown), and "la fabrica" (the factory). Thus we may respond "Voy a la fabrica" (I am going to the factory) or "Voy a la casa" (I am going home).

"Por que va usted?" suggests the question, "Why are you going?" There are usually familiar reasons why we go to certain places. A few of them might be expressed in phrases like "para descansar" (in order to rest), "para bailar" (in order to dance) or "para comer" (in order to eat). To complete such phrases we simply say "Yo voy para comer" (I am going in order to eat) or "Yo voy para descansar" (I am going in order to rest).

You may find that saying the following phrases aloud with the recorded voice that demonstrates the correct pronunciation is an easy way to reinforce your learning. The recorded voice will say each word and each phrase separately for you when you dial 276-2762 on your telephone.

IMPORTANT PHRASES:

Say "Cuando va usted?" (KOO-AHN-doh vah oo-STEHD) for "When are you going?" Say "Yo voy en enero" (yoh VOH-eh eh-NEH-roh) for "I am going in January."

USEFUL PHRASES: Say "Como va el?" (KOH-moh vah EHL) for "How is he going?" Say "El va solo" (EHL vah SOH-loh) for "He is going alone."

OTHER PHRASES: Say "Por que va usted?" (pohr-KEH vah oo-STEHD) for "Why are you going?" Say "Yo voy para descansar" (yoh VOH-eh PAH-rah dehs-kahn-SAHR) for "I am going in order to rest."

SCUBA Training Planned

The growing popularity of Scuba diving has brought with it a need for properly educating divers in safety. A 5-week long daytime class which meets Saturdays will begin October 23 at 8:30 a.m., at the University of San Diego on Linda Vista rd.

Tuition for the course is $50, and all equipment is furnished. Graduates are awarded certification from the National Association of Underwater Instructors (NAUI).

According to the U. S. Census Bureau, one out of every ten Americans is 65 years of age or older and the proportion is growing at a steady clip.

The girls are presently selling memberships to the Mother Goose Parade Association, with the 12 top sellers automatically advancing to the finals. Final judging will be based on beauty and poise rather than on the number of memberships sold.

Dear Editor,

To all voters of the Grossmont High School District:

The Foothill Taxpayers Association recommends an emphatic "no" vote on Tuesday's $19.5 million bond election.

Why? 1. Four years ago, in Oct. 1967, a $6 million bond was passed to pay for a new high school and school repairs during a 5-year period. Asst. Supt. Stanley McClintic said in a newspaper article, "This is a definite 5 year plan and a new school is included."

Only 4 years have passed and the school district is now asking for more money to help build the same high school.

2. The new school will cost $23.19 per sq. ft. according to school administration and in excess of $5 million.

Upon checking building costs for a super-deluxe apartment building, it would cost about $12 per sq. ft. Why does the school building cost almost twice as much as a deluxe apartment building?

3. When you say "yes" to a bond issue, you simply put another mortgage on any property you own if it passes. The interest on this bond will amount to an enormous figure.

California is now averaging 7,500 foreclosures per month and about 30% of this state's property owners were unable to pay their taxes last April 10. (Jarvis report)

4. More money in expensive buildings doesn't make for a better education, we feel. We believe that the content of the subject matter is the important aspect to our children's education — adequate buildings are necessary; not palaces with fancy brick work, etc., etc., etc.

Mrs. Waldo Clark, President, Foothill Taxpayers Association

EDITOR'S NOTE: McClintic, in an interview Monday, said that his statement regarding the 1967 issue was correct and explained why more money is being sought to pay for the same new high school.

McClintic said that the $4 million planned to finance the new school was simply not enough in 1971 dollars. Additionally, some of that money was used to purchase a site for the tenth high school, which is still only partially paid for.

He said that the money was spent to purchase the last suitable site available before a housing development was built, which would have skyrocketed the value of the land.

McClintic also cited reasons for the $23.19 per square foot of high school, as compared to the $12 per square foot for an apartment complex.

The high school building must be built to accommodate special programs and must also follow more rigid building requirements under state law.

McClintic noted that Mrs. Clark is asking reasonable questions and concurred in her judgement that programs and subject matter are more important than building needs.

He added that the Grossmont District has always spent a greater part of its money for good teachers than for buildings. He said that the proposed number of square feet per child in the new high school is well below that which is recommended nationally.

He also noted that the current number of square feet per child on a district-wide average is 77, well below that which is recommended on the state level, and below what he considers a "decent minimum" of 85.

He said that the cost of the new high school is comparable to four new high schools which have been built in the state recently.

Grossmont College will offer an eight-week course in the Lamaze method of prepared childbirth starting October 16 in the student center. The course, presented as part of the college's community services program, will be offered each Saturday through December 4 from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Diane Allen will serve as instructor for the course prepared by the Childbirth Education Association. The classes are designed to make childbirth an easier, more pleasant experience by eliminating fear due to misconceptions about childbirth and by developing a greater understanding about the birth process.

Class activities will include lectures, discussions, visual aids, and exercise designed to promote health and comfort during pregnancy and help the expectant mother control discomfort during labor and delivery. Husbands are encouraged to attend.

The course is approved by the Childbirth Education Association of San Diego who will issue certificates of completion at the end of the course. Registration is $15 per couple, which includes the cost of all books and other materials.

Registration may be completed by calling the Office of Community Services, Grossmont College, 465-1700, Ext. 211.

Business Women Plan Meeting For Oct. 18

The regular monthly meeting of the Lemon Grove Business Women's League will be a dinner meeting October 18 at the recreation hall of Leewood Mobile Homes. Doris Chappelle will be hosting the happy hour at 6:30 p.m. Dinner will be prepared and served by the following members of the club: Gerrie Antonette, Helene Norman, Zella Monro, and Ruthie Willingham. Helene Norman will take reservations for the dinner at 466-0101.

The bowling league is now in full swing every Tuesday evening at Lomita Bowl. After three weeks of bowling, the "Try Hards" are in first place, with the "Hawks" and the "Spare Ribs" running a close second.

The Marine Corps maintains a force of 215,000 men, all volunteers.

UNITE FOR PROGRESS — Paul Califano, left, Del Lake, and Ken Conrad, demonstrate unity. Del Lake was installed last week as the new president of the Lemon Grove Kiwanis Club. Califano is past president, and Conrad served as the installing officer. The Kiwanis theme for the coming year is "Unite for Progress".

PTA HILITES

Mount Vernon
The Mt. Vernon Elementary School PTA has passed the 100 per cent mark for the twelfth straight year in its 1971-72 membership drive, according to Mrs. Stan Middleton, membership chairman.

A total of 234 memberships were received which pushed the Lemon Grove school past the 100 per cent level, a feat accomplished every year since it was opened in 1960.

Sixth grade students are at Camp Palomar for the school's annual campout, held in conjunction with the San Diego City Schools. The children left by bus Monday morning and will return Friday afternoon.

Eighty-five kindergarten and first graders took part in vision tests last week, according to Mrs. Mike Cervantes, health and welfare chairman.

Results of the tests, sponsored by the Lemon Grove Lions' Club, are being made known to parents of children.

San Altos

The first unit meeting of the San Altos PTA will be held in the cafeteria tonight at 7:30 p.m., under the direction of the new president, Mrs. Kenneth O'Brien.

Mrs. Terri Simmons, program chairman, has announced that there will be a parents portrait contest, and prizes will be awarded at each grade level.

This will also be a "get acquainted with the teachers" meeting. Everyone attending is invited to identify the teachers from their baby pictures.

Lemon Grove Youth Wins Encyclopedias

A Lemon Grove youth, 15-year-old Randy Gale, was a recent winner in the San Diego Evening Tribune's "Ask Andy" column, and was the recipient of a set of World Book Encyclopedias.

Gale, who is the son of Mrs. Louise Gale, of 2353 DiFoss st., Lemon Grove, submitted the question, "What percentage of the human body is water?" His question and the answer appeared Thursday in the Tribune.

Marching Band Set For Chula Vista Parade

The last marching appearance until April of the Lemon Grove Junior High School Band takes place Saturday morning in the Chula Vista Fiesta De La Luna Parade.

Under Director Harry Weisgerber, the 98-piece Trojan steppers will perform along a two mile route, the longest parade they will enter during the 1971-72 season.

Following their appearance Saturday, the Green and Gold clad musicians move indoors for their concert band season. This includes development of the band and playing at various solo and ensemble festivals.

They return to the streets in April for the Rodeo Days Parade in Lakeside, compete against many of Southern California's finest bands in the National City Maytime Band Review and conclude their year in the Lemon Grove Old Times Day Parade.

Heading the Lemon Grove band in the Fiesta De La Luna will be champion baton twirler Karen Eyler, 10-year old sixth grader from San Altos Elementary School.

The group's annual candy sale is in its last stages and should be completed shortly, according to Mrs. Carl Pinto, ways and means chairman.

Student soloists at the monthly meeting of the Music Parents' Association were Laura Thomas, violin, Lynel Smith, piano and Elaine Hoffman, Oboe.

'Pink Lady Days' Set At Walker Scott Stores

"Pink Lady Days" at Walker Scott Stores will be October 26, 27, and 28, this year in connection with the Edgemore Geriatric Hospital Auxiliary.

For several years the Walker Scott Department Stores have publicized the work of the hospital volunteer by allowing them in uniform, to assist with sales at various branch stores. The Edgemore Auxiliary will be working at the El Cajon and College Grove stores.

Mrs. Frank Aves is chairman and Mrs. Richard Kagare is co-chairman. Volunteers will be working four-hour shifts.

CONSTRUCTION STARTS — Bruce Webb, Director of Trade Classes at Santana High School, and Mark Eyerman, former Santana student, watch as construction gets underway on a house to be built by Grossmont High School District students as part of the district's "Project Habitat". Eyerman last year submitted the winning design for the house, which is totally designed and built by students then sold at the end of the year at a public auction. Over 80 youngsters submitted plans last year before 17 final designs were submitted to a panel of six judges and Eyerman's design was selected. Students from all over the Grossmont District will work on the construction of the house, including students from the Lemon Grove and Spring Valley area.

LM-SV District Plans Growth Day Oct. 20

October 20 has been designated as "Professional Growth Day" for all teachers in the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District. Schools will not be in session that day for kindergarten through eighth-grade students.

One day a year is set aside in which teachers and administrators are given the opportunity for in-service and to benefit educationally through a planned program. In essence, it is a day in which teachers "go to school."

This year, individual schools throughout the district will plan their activities and in-service based on immediate needs. Many specialists have been invited to a variety of schools to impart knowledge to staff members.

Other teachers, such as the aural deaf teachers at Rolando Elementary School, will visit the California School for the Deaf in Riverside to implement and enrich the techniques presently being used in their classrooms.

At Avondale Elementary School in Spring Valley the Rev. Arne Christianson, minister and Board of Education member, will present the charge to teachers to consider the school's role and responsibilities in working with children as they develop values and attitudes. In addition to the Rev. Christianson, five other community leaders will head a panel in helping teachers form a basis for developing teaching objectives.

As in the past, it is expected that the day of schooling and in-service for teachers will directly benefit the students of the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District.

Parents are urged to mark their calendar for October 20 as a school holiday for students.

Meeting Set Oct. 23

The Past Matrons and Past Patrons Association of San Diego County, Order of the Eastern Star, will meet October 23 at 6:30 p.m. in the East San Diego Masonic Temple, 5879 43rd st., with Fran Patterson, general chairman, presiding over the business portion of the meeting.

Winter Schedule Set By Recreation District

The Spring Valley Park and Recreation District announced this week its winter schedule of activities.

Included will be weightlifting for boys, wrestling for boys and girls, and basketball for boys and girls.

At Mount Miguel High School, weightlifting will be from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. each Wednesday evening. Registration is free and open to youngsters in and out of the district.

The boys' basketball league will also be at Mount Miguel High School, with registration scheduled for November 13 and 20 from 10 a.m. to noon at Mount Miguel.

For basketball, a registration fee of $1.50 will be charged those youngsters who live in the district, while those who live out of the district will be charged $2.50.

The basketball league will be split into different age groups for youngsters who enrolled in the fourth through ninth grades.

A limited number of youngsters will be enrolled in the program, which is on a first-come, first-served basis. Also needed are men of the community who are willing to serve as coaches.

The girls' basketball league will also hold registration at Mount Miguel during the same time, although their games will be played at Monte Vista High School. The same fees will be charged for the girls, who must be enrolled in the fifth through eighth grades.

For both leagues, registrants must be accompanied by a parent or guardian.

Rounding out the winter schedule will be wrestling at Monte Vista High Tuesday and Wednesday evenings from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. for boys in elementary and junior high schools.

Gulls Home Opener Due Saturday Night

The San Diego Gulls open their sixth season in the Western Hockey League tomorrow night in Phoenix, and then return home Saturday night to face the Denver Spurs at the Sports Arena at 8 p.m.

Both games will be broadcast on KOGO radio starting at 7:45 p.m.

The Gulls start this season with many new faces and much optimism. They went after scoring depth on the front lines and physical strength during the off-season, and seem to have found both.

The Gulls' leading scorer in the exhibition games, right winger George Swarbrick, teams with another newcomer, center Brian McDonald, and veteran winger Len Ronson on the Gulls' best pre-season line.

Other newcomers include impressive rookie winger Bruce Covick, rookie center Orest Kindrachuk, defenseman Dave Woodley and Dunc McCallum and goalie Ken Broderick.

The Gulls finished their exhibition season with a 3-2 record. They defeated Phoenix, 4-1; Salt Lake, 2-0, and Trail Smokeeaters, 4-2. The Gulls lost to Phoenix, 4-2, and to Portland, 3-2.

Following the home opener against Denver, the Gulls will travel to Seattle for a game Sunday evening, and then go on to Portland for a game next Wednesday night.

The Gulls will be trying to break a string of two straight home opener losses when they face the improving Denver team on Saturday night. Two seasons ago, the Gulls dropped their home opener to Phoenix, and last season they dropped the opener to Portland.

The schedule:
Sunday — Seattle: KOGO, 6:45 p.m.

Wednesday — Portland: KOGO, 7:45 p.m.

Friday — Portland: Buckaroos, Sports Arena, 8 p.m.; KOGO, 7:45 p.m.; Gulls honor Edgar Ehrenverth.

Santana Crushes Monte Vista Footballers, 33-14

By Tom Blattler

The Santana Sultans, led by halfback Steve DePaola, rolled over the hapless Monte Vista Monarchs, 33-14, last Friday night at El Capitan High School.

DePaola, a senior, scored on runs of two and 82 yards and picked up a total of 105 yards to lead all rushers, while his running mate, Butch Rasmussen, crossed pay dirt twice for the Sultans from the seven and one-yard lines, and gained 43 yards for the night.

The game, for the most part, was decided on the first five plays of the contest.

After taking the opening kickoff, the Monarchs were penalized backed to their four-yard line on the first two plays. Then the Monarchs missed a handoff and the Sultans recovered the fumble.

Sultan quarterback Jerry Rickman handed to DePaola on two successive plays for the Sultan's first score.

On the first play of the Sultans' next series, Rickman pitched out to DePaola, who streaked 82 yards down the right sideline to give the Santee team a 13-0 lead at the end of the first period.

In the second quarter, the Santana defense continued to hold Monte Vista in the Monarchs' territory, helping the Sultan offense with outstanding field position, resulting in a pair of touchdowns.

The first was a tight end screen pass to senior Henry Arviso from Rickman which covered 19 yards.

The second Sultan score came on a seven-yard trap play to Rasmussen for his first of two TD's. This gave Santana a 26-0 lead going into the dressing room at halftime.

The Santana defense let down a bit in the third quarter as Monte Vista quarterback Art Saphr led the Monarchs to two touchdowns.

Saphr scored the first on a rollout run-pass option from the three-yard line.

The junior quarterback then hit his split end, junior Mark Maley, on the Sultan's 35-yard line, and Maley ran the last 35 yards to complete a 46-yard pass play, making the score 26-14.

But the Santana defense stiffened and went to work on Monarch runners. The tactics caused a fumble in the third quarter as the Monarchs were driving toward a third touchdown.

The Sultans scored an insurance touchdown late in the game when Rasmussen ran in from the one-yard line, and the game ended with the score Santana 33 and Monte Vista 14.

Monte Vista's Saphr is now ranked second in the league in passing with 21 completions in 43 attempts for 205 yards. Saphr also has one touchdown pass and three interceptions. Maley is second in the pass receiving standings with seven receptions. Mark has 112 yards for a 16-yard-per-catch average and one touchdown.

Monte Vista will be playing El Capitan at the Vaqueros' home field tomorrow night.

The Vaqueros are led by quarterback Tom Lockhart, fullback Randy Fisher, and flanker Chuck Anderson. Anderson is one of the leading scorers in the league with three touchdowns and one extra point for a total of 19 points.

El Capitan has a 1-1 record in league action to Monte Vista's 0-2.

The five-yard touchdown pass capped a 72-yard scoring march by the Vaqueros, which they began with two minutes left in the contest. The drive took 12 plays, and 45 of the 72 yards were gained through the air.

"My line was just great. I could have danced in the pocket for an hour without being touched," boasted Lockhart after he guided the team to the touchdown. "The receivers did a great job of getting into the open," he added.

As the game opened, Mount Miguel came out hustling and marched 60 yards for a touchdown early in the period. Tim Miller capped the drive with a plunge up the middle from one yard out.

In the second period, El Cap broke through the Mount Miguel pass defense with a 73-yard bomb from Lockhart to Chuck Anderson to even the score at 7-7.

This year, Jim Hitt took home the championship after building up a strong lead over Tex Kimbrell.

In action at the track Saturday night, Hitt was in battle with Kimbrell for the 50-lap grand prix, with Kimbrell winning the race with no problems and setting a track record in the process.

Hitt took second, Richard White took third, and Jim Osborne, of Brookside, took fourth, which gave him enough points for the year to sneak into fourth place in the points standings ahead of John Dineen.

In other action at the track, Osborne won the fast heat for the evening, Lemon Grove driver George Behlman took the checkered flag in the trophy dash, and Don Kelly, still another Lemon Grove driver, won the first heat race.

The racing date was the last of the season, and possibly the last ever at the Cajon track unless a new lease or lease extension is given by the County Board of Supervisors.

El Capitan High School, on a last-minute touchdown pass from Tom Lockhart to Warren Sales, escaped from Mount Miguel stadium last Friday night with a 21-14 win over the upset-minded Matadors.

The touchdown, which was followed by a two-point conversion, enabled the Vaqueros to overcome a 14-13 deficit with just 44 seconds left in the game.

The play came on a third down and thirteen situation. On the ensuing kick-off, Mt. Miguel got things going again when quarterback Jess Jenner took to the air for a 54-yard touchdown strike to Tim Miller. The play was a screen pass, with Miller capitalizing on some key blocks before streaking down field for the score.

After the halftime intermission, El Capitan came out with a slight change in offensive tactics, replacing the quarterback option play with short passes and ball control.

As the clock ticked away in the third period, the Vaqueros calmly marched toward the end zone from their own 24-yard line.

With short passes, running plays and sweeps, the Vaqueros appeared to be stalled on the Mount Miguel 9-yard line, where they faced a third down and seven situation.

Lockhart then gambled on a pass play to Anderson, who gathered it in in the end zone for the score. The elated Anderson, called upon to kick the extra point, missed with his conversion attempt, and Mount Miguel still had the edge, 14-13.

As play started in the final stanza, it looked more and more as though the missed conversion would be the margin in the game. After exchanging punts, the Vaqueros got possession on their own 28-yard line as the two-minute warning was given.

Ball control and the short pass brought the Lakeside team downfield until the winning touchdown was scored.

The local school made a valiant effort to regain the lead as the final seconds came. Jenner hit Miller with a 15-yd. pass with 36 seconds left to put Mount Miguel on the El Cap 34-yard line, but the gun sounded before Jenner could get another play away.

Another thriller is on tap tomorrow night, as the Matadors take on Santana at the Monte Vista Stadium.

Santana, like Miguel, is a young team with a new coaching staff, and like Mount Miguel, has shown ability for the upset, having racked up Monte Vista last Friday, 33-14.

"I think Santana will come out throwing to test our pass defense," Mount Miguel coach Dwight Morris said.

Game time is at 8 p.m.

Last-Minute Touchdown Kills Mt. Miguel Upset Hopes, 21-14

Touch of Nostalgia at Arena

It was like Old Home Week in some respects Saturday at the Sports Arena. The Rockets were back. Except for the faces, it was not the same Rocket team which left here for Houston. The team appeared more organized and with higher spirit. Even Big E was smiling.

And there was Bob Breitbard. Sitting in his customary seat adjacent the press box surrounded by family and friends. Bob was to be saddened the next day by the death of his father.

And there was Fred Lewis, with his deep, jury foreman voice booming the scores and penalties.

And there was Bob Williams, in charge of the under-the-grandstand press-room where food and potables is supplied to scribes during the evenings.

And there was Pete Newell, now coach of the Houston Rockets, who ranks with Max McNab and Eddie Leishman as sportdom's most outstanding gentlemen.

The Rockets showed what the move from San Diego had wrought. They beat the Portland Trail Blazers 114-102 — the third straight victory over that team as the pre-season neared its end.

Bob's Popular

At the half, there was Breitbard surrounded by Rocket players E. Hayes, Cal Murphy, Stu Lantz, Don Adams, John Trapp, and others in the area just outside the team's dressing room. One of them was saying that he'd prefer to play in a San Diego parking lot to playing in Houston.

There was Meredith Devin, efficient former office manager of the S.D. Rockets and now consultant with the California Warriors. She circulated around the press section, making certain reporters had background material and scoring sheets.

A new face was that of a Lemon Grove man, Gabe DeNunzio, who replaced Bob King as director of publicity for the local professional basketball team. Gabe was to announce a few days later that Peter Graham, millionaire new owner of the Sports Arena, had authorized him to reveal that San Diego would have a top major league hoop team soon and the team would have San Diego on its shirts.

The faces of Peter Graham and Harry Ernest, Graham's manager of the Arena, were there smiling at the 7,108 fans who turned out to welcome back professional basketball.

Warm Welcome

"The pair was sitting 20 rows back from Breitbard's seats and they rose to greet me and Bob Wells, sports director for KFMB radio warmly as we left near the end of the hoop doubleheader.

In the second part of the doubleheader which was a cliff-hanger, San Diego's own San Francisco Warriors, now called the Golden State Warriors were defeated by a point as the L.A. Lakers racked it up 117-116.

Individual players in both games showing class were Cal Murphy, the diminutive speedster, gangling Wilt Chamberlain, Lakers Star, Sidney Wicks of the Portland team, a 225 pounder from UCLA, who is almost a team in himself, and Gail Goodrich, another UCLA-Laker, who kept the defensive pressure on the Warriors all evening.

That's what the sports world is about. New faces and old. New wins, new defeats. New situations and those yet to be resolved. But all in all it's a happy world for fans.

'Hillers, Matadors, Vaqs To Get Prep Grid Wins

By John Nicholson

Here's what tomorrow's sports calendar looks like for Grossmont League fans, along with the favorites:

Football

Grossmont vs. El Cajon at Valley Stadium. Two excellent teams will square off, with Grossmont to take home the win by 10 points or so. El Cajon is a much better team than the Braves have shown so far this season, but not quite good enough to beat the explosive 'Hillers.

Monte Miguel vs. Santana at Monte Vista Stadium. Monte Miguel will simply flatten the Sultans if the offensive line performs as it has the last couple of weeks. Santana is geared to stop the pass play, which is OK with Monte Miguel, as that play is rarely used. Mt. Miguel by 14 points.

Monte Vista at El Capitan. The Monarchs, who have had some problems in the early going, should have more trouble with the Vaqueros. The Vaqueros' quarterback option should move well against the Monarch defense. El Cap by 12 points.

Granite Hills at Helix. Helix gets the nod in this game, having a superior offensive unit. Granite Hills could get some good drives going, but the Highlander offense should be the difference. Helix by 10.

Cross Country

Grossmont at El Cajon. El Cajon will have no trouble at all with the Foothillers and should win by close to 20 points. George Pullen does a good job for the Foothillers, but will not be able to match Terry Cotton and Company.

Mount Miguel at Santana. Mount Miguel should collect the victory by 15 points, and Joe Stubbs will be out after the Santana course record. The Sultans have a fair runner in Tom Goss, but he should finish no better than fifth.

Monte Vista at El Cap. Another easy meet for Monte Vista as the Monarchs go after their third straight league win. Gary Close will lead his teammates against Larry Mundinger and his mates. Monte Vista by 20.

Granite Hills at Helix. This meet stands to be the only

Hawks Best T-Birds In Soccer Match

The Lemon Grove Hawks, led by four goals each by Gary Geinecke and Donny Cook, were the most impressive team in Suburban Soccer League action last week when the Hawks beat the Thunderbirds, 13-1.

In other action in the Southern Division of the league, which encompasses Lemon Grove and Spring Valley, the Falcons dropped a tough one, 4-3, to the Condors, the Eagles topped the Roadrunners, 4-2, and the Ravens and Green Dragons battled to a 0-0 stand-off.

In the Hawks-T-birds contest, Geinecke, Cook, Jeff Big-nell, and Pat Achison, and Bob Martin all had a hand in the scoring. Goalie Bob Jus-zak was required to make only two saves for the Hawks.

In the Falcons-Condors game, it was Mike Thomasel-li scoring a pair of goals for the winners, while goalie Glen Gillman had his hands full with ten saves.

Armando Caldez was the big gun in the Eagles-Road-runners affair, scoring three goals, while Mike Gamboa held the 'Runners to a pair of goals with 13 saves.

In Northern Division action, the Pros beat the Socceros, 1-0, the Lions topped the North-stars, 4-1, the Playboys up-ended the Rangers, 2-1, and the Rippers ripped the Giants, 5-0. The Northern division encompasses La Mesa.

Southern Division games are played at La Presa Junior High School, and Northern Division contests take place on San Diego State College's women's field hockey field.

All games are played on Saturdays, beginning at 10 a.m. and lasting through most of the afternoon.

Punt, Pass Kick Winners Announced

Results of the La Mesa Recreation Department-sponsored punt, pass, and kick contest were announced last week.

In the 10-year old division, Robert Congdon took first place with a total distance of 148 feet for the three events. Frank Claypool was second with a distance of 135 feet, followed by Jackie Medina in third place with 133 feet.

In the 11-year old division, Mike Arneson claimed top honors with 218 feet, six inches. Jaffrey Garrison was second with 197 feet and Paul Dawson was third with 189 feet.

In the 12-year old class, it was Larry Knorr winning easily with his total of 259 feet, six inches. Matt Gorder took second place with a mark of 225 feet and Ken Price was third with his 212-foot mark.

The battle in the 12-year old division was a tight one, with Steve Harbeck claiming the crown with his mark of 260 feet, just two feet better than second place Lee Secciani. Rolando Moreno was third with a distance of 253 feet.

Winners in each age division earned a berth at the zone Finals held at Colina Del Sol.

Fine Arts Trio Due Tomorrow At Grossmont

Grossmont College's Office of Community Services will present the University of California, Santa Barbara Fine Arts Trio in two appearances at 11 a.m. and 8 p.m., tomorrow in the Fine Arts Lecture Hall.

The trio was founded in 1968 by members of the University of California, Santa Barbara music faculty. Specializing in chamber music from all periods, their repertoire extends from the classical to the most contemporary literature for trios. In one of their most recent concert performances, they were acclaimed as mature and polished in their playing and were lauded at displaying rapport and synchronization that could be the envy of other ensembles.

The trio, composed of Stefan Krayk, violinist; Geoffrey Rutkowski, cellist and Roger Grove, pianist, will play "Trio No. III in C Major," by Joseph Haydn and "Trio in C Major, Op. 87," by Brahms for their 11 a.m. appearance. The 8 p.m. concert will also include "Begerettes (1963)," by Bohuslav Martinu in addition to the works by Haydn and Brahms.

The public is invited and the price of admission is 50 cents for both the 11 a.m. and 8 p.m. concerts with tickets available at the door.

'Romeo And Juliet' Set At College

Grossmont College will continue its Fall Film Forum Series when "Romeo and Juliet" and "The Eternal Tramp" are screened at 2 p.m. October 19, in the Fine Arts Lecture Hall.

Produced by Irving G. Thalberg and directed by George Cukor, "Romeo and Juliet" features an all-star cast with Leslie Howard, Norma Shearer, John Barrymore, Edna May Oliver, Basil Rathbone, C. Aubrey Smith, Andy Devine and Reginald Denny.

Based on the play by William Shakespeare, this most famous film version of the tragedy was two years in planning. The city of Verona was reconstructed on the Metro lot to set the tone for Renaissance realism. A splendid setting, costumes and photography decorate this tapestry of youthful compassion and adult rivalry between two rich and powerful families. The film is faithful to the letter of the original story.

"The Eternal Tramp," a silent movie from the golden days of comedy, stars Charlie Chaplin and Edna Purviance. An accompanying narration by Gloria Swanson analyses the craft of Chaplin and offers a study of the tramp character he made famous. Excerpts are shown from more than a dozen of Chaplin's early films including "Easy Street," "The Rink," "The Adventurer" and "The Fireman."

This biographical study of the early work of Chaplin draws its material from newsreel footage, still photographs, as well as excerpts from his early films. It is an entertaining and informative glimpse of movies during the heyday of silent comedy.

In addition to the Tuesday afternoon showing at the college, "Romeo and Juliet" and "The Eternal Tramp" will be screened at 8 p.m., October 20 at Spring Valley Junior High School and at 2 p.m., October 21 at La Mesa's Ben Polak Fine Arts Center.

FUNNYMAN — Don Knotts, star of stage, screen, and television, has been cast in the lead role of Niel Simon's "Last of the Red Hot Lovers", which will open October 21 at the Off Broadway Theatre. The comedy will open for a limited run at the theatre and advance ticket sales indicate a sellout.

Rebekah Lodge Meeting Due

Mesa Jewel Rebekah Lodge No. 409, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, will meet October 20 at 7:30 p.m. in the American Legion Hall at 8118 University ave., La Mesa, with Noble Grand Daisy Beatty presiding over the business portion of the affair.

On tap at the meeting will be the nomination of officers for the 1972 term.

Following the business meeting, the lodge will celebrate its 20th anniversary with a party, with Eileen Aston in charge. Helping Mrs. Aston will be Christine Blackall, Irene Hoss, and Martha Purdy.

Two Films On Tap In College Series

Grossmont College will present "The Three Penny Opera" and "Frankenstein" today as a continuation of the school's fall film series.

The films, which will be screened at 2 p.m. in La Mesa's Ben Polak Fine Arts Center, and 7 p.m. at Grossmont Gardens Apartments, 5480 Marengo ave., La Mesa, are a part of the school's special non-credit course "History and Application of Films."

"The Three Penny Opera" was produced in Germany in 1931 under the title "Die Dreigroschenoper." Directed by G. W. Pabst, a talented and courageous band of artists in Berlin, just prior to Hitler's seizure of power, produced this historic adaptation of the Brecht-Weill triumph. Freely adapting Gay's "Beggars' Opera," Brecht and Weill conjured up the extravagant world of beggars, thieves, prostitutes and reprobate police, all led by the irrepressible Mack the Knife and his girl friend Pirate Jenny.

Pabst used many of the original actors from the now legendary stage performances at the Theatre am Schiffbauerdamm in Berlin. The film was chosen by the 1948 Brussels World Poll of Film Critics as one of the "Top Ten in Cinema History." It is the only complete version of "The Three Penny Opera" in existence. After many years of search, a complete negative was reconstructed; the original negative and all original prints having been destroyed by the Nazis.

beautiful", and "keep our bays and oceans beautiful."

The themes will be carried out throughout the game with scoreboard caricatures designed by Sea World's Bill Riley.

The contest is for boys aged 8-13 who live anywhere in San Diego County. The winner, who will be chosen by a drawing October 22, will participate in halftime activities at the game.

The youngster will also receive free annual passes to Sea World for his entire family, a photograph of himself with Charger quarterback John Hadl, an autographed football, a Charger sweatshirt, and a souvenir water bucket. Entry blanks are available at Boy Scout headquarters, San Diego Recreation Department centers, and at Sea World.

DOUBLEHEADER — Plaques are held by newsmen following awards made earlier in the month. Left, publisher Max Goodwin displays award made by Sigma Delta Chi for his contribution to the National Professional Journalistic Society. John Nicholson, news editor, displays award of appreciation made by Cajon Speedway for telling the stock car race story over the summer. Goodwin, past president of the S.D. Chapter of SDX, is editor of the LEMON GROVE REVIEW and the SPRING VALLEY BULLETIN. Nicholson is news editor of both publications.

Hinton Concert Set October 20

Grossmont College's Office of Community Services will present folksinger Sam Hinton in two public concerts titled "Singing Across the Land," October 20. The first performance will be at 11 a.m. in the Fine Arts Lecture Hall followed by an evening concert at 8 p.m., in the Student Center.

Hinton has performed in every state of the union and made over 100 records. He sees "folk music" as an unashed expression of people's customs and judgments and as a direct line of communication between modern man and his ancestors. He thinks of it not only as artistic medium of expression, but as a subject for disciplined scholarly study.

Acquiring an early interest in folklore during a boyhood in the pine and swamp country of southeast Texas, Hinton supported himself for two years at Texas A and M College by his music and by selling to a pharmaceutical firm the venom he extracted from his stable of 60 water moccasins.

Monte Vista Homecoming Set Oct. 22

This year's Monte Vista Homecoming October 22, promises to be a special one, marking the school's tenth anniversary and members of the first two graduating classes have been invited to an after-games reception at the Ox Bow Inn in Casa de Oro.

Principal R. C. Brady has a special tie-in with the classes of '62 and '63, as he was their counselor. "I am especially anxious to see as many of the first two graduating classes as possible at homecoming this year," said Brady. "We feel it is time to pay them a special tribute for the way they helped Monte Vista get off to a great start." There were only 900 students at Monte Vista in those first two years, compared with 2,560 today.

Jim Peace, also a counselor at Monte Vista in 1962, is currently principal at El Cajon Valley High School, which will provide the football opposition.

The campus will be open to visitors and alumni all day on October 22, but the major events are that night beginning with a parade around the stadium track at 7:30 p.m., followed by the football game with El Cajon, climaxed by a dance in the gym for students.

Scouts Set Colorado River Trip

Twenty eight members of Lemon Grove Boy Scout Troop 376 are to begin a weekend trip down the Colorado River Friday night.

The Scouts will leave by automobile from their sponsoring institution, St. Philip's Episcopal Church, 2660 Hardy dr., returning Sunday afternoon.

The boys will use rubber rafts for their method of transportation, traveling from Pico to Imperial Oasis. They will spend Saturday evening camped at Fisher's Landing.

Other campouts for Troop 376 this year have been at Vacation Island, Picacho State Park, Seeley Lake, Santee Lake, Bow Willows, a week-long summer hike to Lone Pine and into the Sierra Nevada Mountains and a weekend at Camp Hual-Cuishi.

Troop member Robert Hill has completed his requirement for Eagle rank of 21 merit badges earned and is now working on his final project, community service. He is collecting food, clothing and bedding for needy families in the Lemon Grove area and will turn all supplies received to Fr. Kenneth Johnson at St. Philips.

Any persons wishing to donate toward the project may call him at 463-6357.

or two district plans previously discussed.

In accepting the free and reduced price lunch report, it was noted that students on the program have decreased in the last month, although an increase over last year has occurred.

Superintendent Byron Netzel, noted that the increase was probably due to a decrease in requirements of eligibility. The board voted, also, to recognize National School Lunch Week.

In routine matters, the board accepted the audit report, recognized the Lemon Grove Teachers' Association, and discussed a public employment program instigated by the Human Resources Department.

In 1936 he quit school to go on the road with a Major Bowes vaudeville troupe. Billed as a "folksinger" — one of the first performers to be so designated — he toured 46 states and Canada. After his stint with Major Bowes, he entered the University of California at Los Angeles as a zoology major, working part-time as a folksinger and scientific illustrator.

Upon obtaining his degree from UCLA, Hinton was the director of the Museum of the Desert in Palm Springs for three years. He then became curator of aquariums and museums at the University of California Scripps Institute of Oceanography in La Jolla.

Demo Fund-raiser to Draw Top State, Federal Talent

California's two United States Senators, Alan Cranston and John Tunney, will lead a delegation of top State and Federal officials who plan to attend the $125 a plate Democratic fund-raising dinner, "An Evening with the Next President of the United States" Friday.

Local legislators who will join Cranston and Tunney in honoring the potential Democratic candidates for President include Congressman Lionel Van Deerlin, Senate President Pro-Tem James Mills and Assemblymen Peter Chacon and Wadie Deddeh of San Diego County, Ken Cory from Orange County, and John Quimby of San Bernardino County.

An added attraction for those attending the dinner at the Hotel Del Coronado will be the appearance of two Northern Californians prominently mentioned as potential Democratic candidates for Governor in 1974. They are Congressman Jerome Waldie of Contra Costa County and State Senator George Moscone from San Francisco.

Richard Nevins, Chairman of the State Board of Equalization, and California Democratic Party Leaders Charles Manatt, State Chairman, and Carmen Warschaw, National Committeewoman, have also announced intentions to attend the gala event.

Reservations are still being accepted and information may be obtained by calling the Southern California Office of the Democratic Party at 296-3387.

Leadership Conference Set Oct. 27

Student leaders from all eight Grossmont District high schools will participate in a conference which will center on the role of leadership during a period of changing values, from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. October 23, at Vacation Village.

Allan Niebrugge, ASB President at host El Cajon Valley High School, said that this conference will be different from previous District Leadership Conferences in that it will center on issues rather than the mechanics of office.

"In the past, presidents have met with presidents, secretaries with secretaries, etc., and they talked about how each did his own job. This time we are going to talk about the role of a leader when times are changing," he said.

To accomplish this, there will be a series of seminars which all student leaders may attend. Each seminar will deal with a different issue in today's society, and most will have experts to talk to the students and lead them in discussion.

"We want to talk about how we can serve the real problems facing us today, not just about how to hold a dance or stage a pep rally," Niebrugge said.

With the new government contract (No. HSM 110-72-68), as with the old, the San Diego County Medical Society will serve as fiscal agent for the project. In that capacity, the Society disperses project funds, meets the payroll, and carries out all financial negotiations with the Clearinghouse's parent agency, the Health Services and Medical Health Administration.

Tom T. Nute, executive secretary of the Medical Society, is designated as Smoking Research's project director.

In its new role as a smoking control training center, the project will play host to medical, paramedical, and health agency groups from around the nation. The sessions will last five days and the 20-40 attendees will hear about the successes — and failures — of San Diego's smoking control campaign.

Smoking Research also will continue to be a local clearinghouse for pamphlets and films on smoking control.

Safety Is Basic Purpose Of Building Inspection Department

"Tommy, wash off your dirty feet," Tommy obediently trotted over to the faucet by the back door, let the water rush over his dust and grass-covered bare feet, and was electrocuted.

His father had driven a nail for a picture, striking a carelessly placed electric wire in the wall. The nail also struck metal lath sheathing which ran down the outside wall and touched the water pipe. The faucet had been used several times, but when Tommy gripped the handle and wet his feet, he became a perfect conductor.

"It's to prevent accidents like this that there are electrical, plumbing, and other building code regulations on even minor changes and remodeling in homes," said James J. Gilshian, San Diego County Building Inspection Department Director.

"Our basic purpose is to make sure that all buildings are adequate — in safety and sanitation — for their intended use. We try to protect the public, to assure their welfare, safety and health in all facilities constructed on private property," stated Gilshian.

"Most contractors are knowledgeable and do a good job — and want to do a good job. But laborers sometimes make mistakes. We exist to see that no dangerous mistakes remain as a hazard to someone's life and limb," he said.

Gilshian said a comprehensive building code is necessary because San Diego County faces all sorts of climate conditions. It's not like the Gulf Coast, for instance, where the only climate hazard is an occasional hurricane.

In this County, some areas have to take into account snow loads; others have to consider sandstorms and desert heat. All of the County must consider earthquake, and water problems.

Permits issued by the County Building Inspection Department cover five main areas — building, plumbing, electrical, grading, and mobile home park construction. In issuing building permits, inspectors check plans to be sure the structure will be sound and "adequate for its intended use." The State of California recently adopted the widely used uniform building code which sets standards for all types of structures and materials.

"We have especially stringent regulations for any sort of building intended for large public gatherings," pointed out Gilshian. "It must use fire resistant materials, have an automatic fire sprinkler system, and adequately lighted exits. In addition, exits must be equipped with 'panic hardware' so that even if a door jams or locks, a certain amount of pressure will break it loose, preventing people from being trapped in the room or building."

Remodeling and additions also come under scrutiny.

"For instance, a proposed room addition that blocks all windows in an existing room is against regulations. Window regulations are specific: they even state at least one bedroom window must be large enough to use as an escape hatch in case of fire or other emergency."

Plumbing codes cover all sorts of contingencies the average homeowner may never have considered. For example, all gas water heaters installed in a garage must be raised 18" above the floor. This is so that spilled gasoline for the power mower or paint thinner running across the floor won't be ignited in a sheet of flame. Proper venting of all gas appliances can prevent asphyxiation; pressure relief valves on water heaters help prevent explosions.

"Under the electrical code," continued Gilshian, "we follow every step of the wiring. We check to see that wires are kept enough in the wall to — hopefully — avoid nails; we see that there are adequate outlets, and that all new homes have two appliance circuits so Mom can use all her electrical gadgets when repairing a party meal. Remember trying to cook a big Thanksgiving dinner with the toaster hitched up in the garage and the percolator plugged into a bedroom outlet to avoid blowing a fuse?"

Grading permits are issued to try to prevent the disasters of 1966 when some houses in the area slid down hillsides. Gilshian emphasizes that drainage is a real problem in San Diego County, and he cautions all prospective buyers to check whether the property has expansive soil or clay, or is in a local water-course or flood plain. It's against grading regulations to divert historical drainage patterns; if property is in the wrong pattern, several blocks' runoff could empty right into the proposed living room.

The County Building Inspection Department runs two busy offices, in Vista and La Mesa, where 200 visitors a day are cared for. There were 1,190 permits issued in July. The dollar volume of permits in the last three months has equaled all of 1967, and this has been accomplished with three less people on the staff than in 1967.

WEST COAST REPRESENTATIVE — Julie Stewart, a junior at Grossmont High School, represented the West Coast last month in the YWCA's National Board and Staff Planning Conference in New York City. Miss Stewart earned the right to represent the West Coast at the Western Region Action Assembly at the University of Southern California.

35 YEARS OF SERVICE — Homer Wilson, left, of Spring Valley, Ralph Larson, of Lemon Grove, and Ray Daddario, of El Cajon, receive service awards presented by Harry Griffen from the Helix Irrigation District. Wilson, Larson, and Daddario were honored at a meeting of the district's Board of Directors for service to the company totaling 35 years.

Duffy Named Campaign Head

Sheriff John F. Duffy was named San Diego-Imperial campaign chairman for the 1972 March of Dimes drive against birth defects.

Announcement of the sheriff's appointment was made by Thomas V. Prendergast, chapter chairman for The National Foundation-March of Dimes. The annual campaign will be conducted in the traditional month of January.

For more than a decade the March of Dimes has led the fight to prevent birth defects. To achieve this goal, it helps support a network of birth defects centers, programs of professional and public health education and community service.

Armed Robber Escapes With $40 In Cash

The 7-11 Store at 10049 Campo Rd., Casa de Oro, was the victim of an armed robbery early last Wednesday morning, according to reports from the Sheriff's Office.

The suspect, described as a white male, about 5-9 and 170 pounds, 20 to 21 years old with collar-length brown hair, escaped in a large white vehicle with about $40 after flashing a western-type revolver to a clerk at the store saying "Give me all your money."

The robbery took place at 2:45 a.m. at the 24-hour store. The suspect vehicle was believed to be a 1960-63 model, and the suspect reportedly was wearing a white T-shirt and brown pants.

Dog's Owner Sought

Six-year-old Albert Winters was bitten by an apricot-colored poodle Saturday and has started the painful anti-rabies shots, his mother said Monday.

Al was bitten on the mouth as he walked near a parked auto on the north side of Broadway in Lemon Grove between 11 a.m. and noon.

The reddish-brown poodle was in the car but the window was down and the dog was able to stretch out and nip the boy. The boy's parents, Al and Mary Winters, live at 3482 Trophy Dr. in Brookside and their telephone number is 463-1312. If the dog's owner has had the dog vaccinated for rabies, the treatment could be halted. There is no indication of law-breaking on the part of the dog's owner.
